The David Gray Domestic Abuse Team are here to support you and your clients

David Gray Solicitors has a wealth of experience in domestic abuse and related family law matters. We cover all areas of the North East, including Northumberland, North and South Tyneside and Sunderland.

We have a large and varied team, with a breadth of experience, many of whom are Resolution accredited, which means they specialise in domestic abuse matters. We can offer advice regarding children law matters, divorce and finances; alongside domestic abuse advice. This means that a service user can obtain all their family law advice from our firm, with a local solicitor. Our team work with other organisations involved in family law matters to ensure domestic abuse survivors and their children are supported in all areas of their life.

At David Gray we have an injunction rota every day of the working week, which enables you and your service users to speak to one of our experienced team members. We will be able to offer advice around options going forward and whether an application to court is needed.

We understand that reaching out to a solicitor at this time may be challenging and will support the service user throughout the process. We will keep you informed as the case progresses to work collaboratively with organisations.

We offer a free 30-minute advice appointment for clients referred to us from domestic abuse agencies. We have a legal aid contract and will assess all new clients to consider eligibility for legal aid.

Contact us by phone on 0191 243 8163 or email our customer relationship manager at Louise.Law@davidgray.co.uk or use the contact form on our website.
